TO LOSE TEN MEN

Five of 7 Line Men Lost From Husker Camp by Graduation.

Both Ends and Tackles Will Not Return to Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 15.—Ten of Nebraska's "fighting Cornhuskers" of 1922 will on Thanksgiving day don the moleskins for their last time.

Five of the seven line men are lost by graduation while the fullback, Captain "Chick" Harkey, the two quarterbacks, Preston and Russell, and a halfback, Hoy, are lost from the backfield. A sixth lineman, a substitute end, who gets into the games regularly, is also lost to the squad.

The line men who will not don moleskins for Nebraska after Thanksgiving, unless a postseason game is arranged at the wish of alumni, are Scherer and Schoepel, ends; Weller and Wenke, tackles; Bassett, guard, and Thompson, substitute end. All of these men now have two letters and are virtually assured of their third and last letter this year.

Of the backfield men to be lost, Preston is the only one who will not be a three-year letter man. A year with the varsity at Kalamazoo, left Preston eligible for only two years varsity at Nebraska. His time is therefore served this year.

Ten men lost with this year's team will leave Head Coach Dawson with a less promising squad next year. With the linemen go virtually all the

Pyorrhea and Its Warning Signs

Bleeding, Tender, Receding Gums Are Danger Signals of This Disease.

Pyorrhea comes not as a thief in the night, but warns of its approach. When the gums become tender and bleed easily—when they begin to recede from the teeth—when ulcerations and gum boils appear—these are warning signs that Pyorrhea is attacking the teeth.

The prudent man or woman will heed these warnings. Pyorrhea, in its early stages particularly, is easy to check and untold misery and ill health averted. Pyorrhea unchecked means the untimely loss of teeth and general health.

Moore's Pyorrhea Remedy, obtainable at any drug store, will promptly and positively kill the germs of Pyorrhea. It will harden the gums, heal ulcerations and diseased conditions. It will save teeth and health. Thousands of grateful users report all signs of Pyorrhea gone, and the mouth now sweet, clean and healthy. Even in advanced stages, Pyorrhea yields to this treatment.

Druggists are authorized to refund the purchase price when results are not satisfactory, and it can be used on this basis. Moore's Pyorrhea Remedy is made and guaranteed by Moore's Laboratories, Kansas City, Mo. Accept no substitute.—Adv.

heavy men, Berquist, guard, being the only big man left. Peterson, 165-pound center, is the small man of the line.

An idea of the beef which the Huskers lose in the line when these ten men quit the field is shown by a glance at their weights. Schoepel and Scherer, ends, weigh in at 192 and 180, respectively. Wenke tips the scale at 205 pounds and Weller at 217. With the loss of these ten men Dawson will find himself faced with a proposition of molding practically a new team next fall.

Must Build New Line.
The line, a feature of the Husker defense, and the backfield, which has rammed thru opponents for touchdowns after touchdowns, will both need to be fitted in new clothes.

Four halfbacks, Herb and Rufus DeWitz, Lewellen and Noble, and one fullback, Hartman, will return for the 1923 season. These, together with the men who come in from this year's freshman squad will give Dawson plenty of working material in the backfield. Every man of them has the driving power to gain and the quarter position seems to be the hardest problem for the Nebraska mentor.

The line presents the big problem. Only two veteran regular first stringers back, Berquist and Peterson, will face Dawson. For ends, McAllister and Collins have been showing good form this year and have gotten into several games. Tackle prospects pivot about Lerby, Frasier, Hendrickson and McGleson. Guard candidates will be Nixon, Sturm and Parker. Besides these there will be a large group of incoming candidates from this year's freshman squad.

K. U. NEWS NOTES

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 15.—The University of Kansas Reserve Officers Training Corps rifle team has accepted the challenge of the R. O. T. C. of the University of Nebraska for a telegraphic meet to be held soon. The men will use .22 caliber rifles, standard United States government pieces. Last year the K. U. team won the championship of the Seventh Corps area which includes many large middle-west universities.

In only a few universities in the United States are the summer rates as low as at the University of Kansas, according to a statement made by Dean R. A. Kent of the School of Education at K. U. Dean Kent has just returned from a meeting of the Association of Summer Session Directors at Iowa City, Ia. Summer school at the University of Kansas is held in two terms, either one of which the student may attend.

Try-outs for the debating team of the University of Kansas will soon take place in preparation for the debates with Colorado, Oklahoma and Missouri. The subject for debate between these four schools this year will be: "Resolved, that the United States should immediately recognize the Soviet Government of Russia."

Thru the extension of the University of Kansas, 1,597 students were enrolled in correspondence study courses from July, 1921, to July, 1922, it has been announced. Of this number 1,403 were Kansas students and represented 307 Kansas towns and cities. The foreign countries represented in this number were: Alaska, India, Japan, Philippines, Hawaii and Cuba. These students were enrolled in some of 198 various correspondence courses offered by the university.

The cost of maintaining the R. O. T. C. unit at the University of Kansas to the government for the past year was $27,805, according to word received by officers of the local unit. Of this amount, $4,720 was spent for uniforms; $232 for ammunition; $17,264 for instructors' salaries; $4,263 for communications of rations for the students. Also, $116.57 worth of equipment has been furnished by the government to the unit.

Vernon Kellogg, graduate of K. U., '89, has been chosen general secretary of the American committee to aid Russian scientists in securing scientific literature. Russian universities and men of science have found it almost impossible to secure scientific documents of recent date, so the American committee with Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American relief administration, will receive in New York and transport to Russia the collected material.
